BEDIENT HAS FUN WITH COLLEGIANS

By T. H. MURNANE.

POMONA, Calif., March 20.—The Boston Red Sox had no trouble this afternoon in defeating the local college team, 7 to 0. Bedient pitched the full nine innings, tossing up the ball and then, with men on bases, striking out the youngsters as he liked. Williams caught the full game.

Hall and Mahony were in the outfield, as Lewis and Hooper took a day off. Speaker was the headliner at the bat and the big elephant for the people to look at and talk about.

The game was played on a rough, sandy field, with small stones scattered about, giving the Red Sox little chance for holding practice. The crowd numbered 700 at half a dollar a throw, with Boston taking 60 percent. Crowds lined the wire fences on the outside and threw oranges to the ball players during the game. Speaker eating several, as well as a bag of peanuts, while playing the outfield.

Danica, a youngster with this club, has agreed to go with the Boston Red Sox when he finishes college. He is fully six feet very awkward, but proved quite effective in the three innings that he pitched.

Bedient, however, made a mess of throwing the ball, but were about the windiest set of kid's ever discovered. However, the Red Sox soon took the conceit out of the youths to the displeasure of the girls present. The score:
